No more paratyphoid in the stock loft – William D. Bell

2021

A while back I wrote to you about Pigeon Vitality's Improver. I was having problems with paratyphoid in my stock loft, so I asked about Improver.

You gave me some information on stopping this disease within my loft. I didn't inject for the disease or use antibiotics. What I've been doing is using Improver every day at the standard dose, right through the breeding period. For the first time I've not had a paratyphoid incident. I put it down to the use of Improver.

Kindest regards,
William D. Bell, UK
